

5 ART SHOWS YOU SHOULD SEE IN L.A. THIS WEEK

BY CATHERINE WAGLEY

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 19, 2015

Simple stripes

There's a haphazard casualness to artists Margaret Lee and Emily Sunblad's show at Hannah Hoffman Gallery, "You Can Teach an Old Zebra New Tricks." The artists, based in New York, made all the work in the show together. They made their simple paintings of windows by applying paint directly to white roller blinds ("You can roll your view up or down," says the press release). Half a zebra can be seen through one red-trimmed window, and "Zebra chairs," made of raffia, canvas and wood, sit on the gallery floor. Wandering through the show is sort of like watching a children's play that's charmingly staged but doesn't have much of a plot. *1010 N. Highland Ave., Hollywood; through Sept. 12.
